Section 2.12

Intellectual Property

1. The information set forth in items 3, 4, 8, 9, 12, 13 and 14 of Section 2.11(b)(i) of this Company Disclosure Schedule is incorporated herein by reference.
2. See attached list of patents and patent applications as of April 23, 2001.
3. See attached list of trademarks, servicemarks and tradenames. The Company has no registered copyrights.
4. The Company's rights in certain patent rights held by Marvin J. Slepian, M.D. and Endoluminal Therapeutics, Inc. are subject to the terms of the Exclusive License Agreement dated as of January 1, 2000, among Marvin J. Slepian, M.D., Endoluminal Therapeutics, Inc. and the Company.
5. Pursuant to the Intellectual Property Transfer Agreement dated as of November 20, 2000, between the Company and Andre Bieniarz, M.D., the Company has assigned to Dr. Bieniarz the Company's right to U.S. Patent Application Serial No. 09/316,879; Patent Cooperation Treaty Application Serial No. PCT/US99/11352; U.S. Provisional Application No. 60/086,624; and foreign applications based on the above PCT application.
6. The Company has licensed certain rights from the University of Texas pursuant to the agreement listed in item 13 of Section 2.11(b)(i) of this Company Disclosure Schedule, a copy of which has been provided to Parent, and such rights are subject to the provisions of that agreement. In addition, the Company's rights in the Coated Medical Device Field have expired, according to notification from the University of Texas, due to insufficient effort to commercialize such devices.

All of the Company's clinical-grade polymers, consisting of primer and sealant types F, S and M, rely on materials and uses covered by the patents licensed from the University of Texas. The Company's rights in the University of Texas technologies are subject to the payment of royalties and to payments upon sublicensing.

Patent Series UTSB002, listed as family 100 in the attached list of patents, is jointly owned by the University of Texas and one of the inventors, Dr. Randall Dunn. Dr. Dunn and Dr. Hubbell were co-inventors, but Dr. Hubbell assigned to the University of Texas, while Dr. Dunn was not obliged to assign and did not. In the patents and application of the 110C1 and 110C3 series, Dr. Hubbell and Dr. Elbert are listed as co-inventors, along with several inventors who are employees of the Company, because some material in the specification and potentially in certain claims derive from work done by them at the University of Texas under the research agreement listed in item 12 of Section 2.11(b)(i) of this Company Disclosure Agreement. Drs. Hubbell and Elbert have assigned their rights to the University of Texas.
